BACH in ITALY J.S. Bach, perhaps the quintessential armchair traveller. At a time when Italy was the hub of European musical activity, Bach managed to absorb Italian counterpoint and concerto technique into his music without ever leaving Germany. From Vivaldi's motet Nulla in mundo pax sincera (featured in the film "Shine"), we trace the path to Bach's own Italian cantata Non sa che sia dolore, visiting his keyboard transcriptions of Vivaldi string concertos along the way. And this 300th anniversary year of Buxtehude's death would not be complete without a side-trip commemorating Bach's best-known 200 mile journey to hear Buxtehude play in Lübeck.
